Put on a show with a Plant Theatre

CREATE a dazzling display of your favourite pot plants in your home or garden with a Plant Theatre.

It's a shelving unit, available in blue wood, that can be wall-mounted or free-standing and is inspired by the auricula theatres popular in the 17th and 18th century.

Peter Magee who founded the Plant Theatre company, said: "Plants in pots can sometimes look a bit lost and untidy but with a Plant Theatre you can use the different colours and textures of your plants to create unique and original works of art for your home or garden all year round."

► Price: £44.95; 12 galvanised pots cost £22.95. Harrod Horticultural will be offering all items for £59.90, a saving of £8 when available in January.
